NEW YORK, February 9th .- The Tribun ays: Captain McCulloch will probably have another opportunity to exercise his nen soon. At a meeting of the Central Labor Union yesterday afternoon, a dele gation from the Socialistic Labor party asked co operation in a Union parade and a mass meeting to properly represent the grievances under which the laboring people are suffering. The Central Labor Union appointed a committee to confer with the Socialistic Labor party for a meet structed to see that the Labor bill, now before State and National Legislatures, specials say the Anarchists in this country are governed by a Chief Executive Committee located in New York and Chicago respectively. From the former city all the orders are issued. The list of agents of the principle groups of Anarchists in New York, Chicago, Cincinnati, San Francisco and St. Louis comprises over two hundred names. There are over fifty chief agents, each commanding a separate group New York. New York City is suppose Philadelphia 2.000: Pittsburg is fourth or ne list, with 1,400 members, Cincinnat and Cleveland come next. The members are taught the use of explosives. They defined on the principle of the Orsini bombs n glass jars. There is a manufactory in stored. There are in the organization of every city, chemists who understand the nixing and handling of the most dangerous fulminates. The Anarchists in Philalelphia have lately grown enthusiastic over they supported in every way.

London, February 9th.-The Pall Mall Gazette this afternoon states that the Cabinet decided that the defeat of El Mahdi is necessary to the vindication of England. No immediate advance upon Khartoum is considered possible, or will be attempted the Gazette says, unless it is found there is good reason for believing that General Gordon is still holding out with a handful of followers in a house in Khartoum, where it is reported that he took refuge when the city fell into Mahdi's hands. In the abence of this, Lord Wolseley, it is said, will probably continue to advance by the river until he reaches Berber, where he will spend the hot weather of summer with his army and wait for the September rise of the Nile and Mrs. E. TWELFTH-STREET BRIDGE.—Street Commissioner Nielsen has a force of workmen proving the Twelfth-street bridge, immedi. $180 75. ately north of the railroad levee. The planking of the old bridge, which was but twelve feet wide, became so worn that it was considered dangerous. The bridge was so narrow, that often after night teams would meet upon it, and owing to its bein so narrow one of them would be compelled to back, sometimes a distance of 200 feet The wagons would also all follow in or track, thus cutting the planking very rapidly where the wheels passed. This road is used more than any other approaching the city, and this bridge, owing to its construction, has been a great source of annoyance to the traveling public. The Street Com-missioner has placed a long and solid stringer of Oregon pine timber along the east side of the bridge six feet distant, making the bridge eighteen feet wide, which the chair. The following-named Directors will admit of the largest teams passing a any point. It is newly planked with Ore gon pine, which is also covered by the old all the objections heretofore enumerated avoided. On either side of the bridge is a neat railing, four feet in hight, leaving the bridge in the clear eighteen feet in width. The structure is 435 feet in length. New abutments have been made, and the approaches widened and graded. The cost of $650, and it will be completed by to-morow INCORPORATED. - Articles of incorporation

In equestion of taxation must of course be duly considered, and if the proposed new supply of water should involve anything damaging, that would not be more than compensated for by advantages to be gained, that scheme should be at once dropped. I am advised that the question of the supply being cut off at the end of the proposed contract, is not one to enter into consideration, as the company is willing to extend the time upon the same relative terms, practically to an indefinite period.

I might refer to other points for consideration, and perhaps should mention the fact that our pumping capacity is already taxed at certain seasons of the year to its full ability. This being the case, if our population and mechanical enterprises increase, as is to be hoped, we shall very soon be called upon for a large outlay for new rease, as is to be hoped, we shall very soon e called upon for a large outlay for new umps to meet such demands. Monday, February 9, 1885. The Senate met at 1:30 P. M., President pro tem. Knight in the chair. Roll called and quorum present. The Chaplain being absent, no prayer was offered.

Leave of absence for one day was granted to Senators Wright, Baldwin, Johnson of Sonoma, pel Valle and Lynch.

The special order of the hour being the question of the second reading of Assembly Bill No. 108, appropriating $10,000 to enable the State of California to make a proper exhibition of its resources at the New Orleans Exposition, Medicar appropriation of the State of California to Make a proper exhibition of the resources at the New Orleans Exposition, Medicar appropriation of the State of California to Make a proper exhibition of the State of California to Make a proper exhibition of the State of California to Make a proper exhibition of the State of California resources at the New Orieans Exposition, McClure said he did not desire to antagonize the bill, but would move to have it re-referred to the Committee on Finance to have it amended. Fileher wanted to know what amendments Cox said that when the bill was considered in Cox said that when the bill was considered in the committee, the Chairman was not present. He, being the second on the committee, had been requested by several of the members to report on the bill, and they had held a meeting and voted on the question of making a report on the bill. He confessed he had not looked into the bill, financially, very closely, but the other members said it was well understood, and the accordingly put the motion, which was carried, and the bill was thereupon reported favorably. Senators Johnson, Kellogg, De Long and himself were the members present at that meet ing.

Routier said that all the people of the State wanted the bill passed. If it was for something down at the Bay, he thought they would favor it, but this bill being in favor of the State at large, for some reason they oppose it. The men at New Orleans taking care of the exhibit were starving, he said, and he thought it was a tarrying when e that California could be said.

Reddy thought delay would kill the bill, and said he could not see why the bill should be re-Filcher read a letter from Mr. Jessop, who i Figure read a letter from Mr. Jessop, who is now at New Orleans, extolling the exhibit made there by the State, and pointing out the necessity of funds to keep men there to look after it so that the fruit, etc., would not be stolen or swapped off to other exhibitors, as had been done at the Centennial exhibition, for want opersons to attend to it.

has been won by so many hard-fought battles and cemented with the best blood of the nation. The civil equality of all men, their right to the lawful pursuit of happiness, has been affirmed in the halls of Congress; has been made the corner-stone of the new structure called the Republican party. Those principles led us to victory time and again, till at last, by our abandonment of a class we had promised to protect, we lost the power we have failed to use with sagacity, not to say with honesty. We cannot afford to slide down any lower on that incline; if we do it we are lost. Between a false friend and an honest antagonist the colored man will not hesitate.

Did it ever come to the mind of the legal geius who inserted that section (No. 60) in our ode that it had been a time when the best o Code that it had been a time when the best of the blood of the white race was liberally mixed on the battle-field with the blood of the darkest of negroes, and that our dying soldiers did not object to rest forever by the side of their dark brothers who were dying with them for freedom and liberty? Whoevermixed his blood in death was worthy of mixing it in life.

Who would ever have thought at that time that a day would come when Republican lawyers would ever decide that a colored man was something above the bruie—enough of a man to cers would ever decide that a colored man was comething above the brute—enough of a man to be punished by our laws, but not entitled to their protection? If the immortal spirit of Lincoln is presiding over us—and I hope in all sincerity that such is not the case—what would be his indignation, his astonishment.

What are we coming to? Are we that vigorus party which a quarter of a century agomancipated 4,000,000 slaves, to the acclamation and admiration of the whole world? or are we ally the degenerated sons of those illustrious ires?
We are now increasing, by white immigration nly, at the rate of 600,000 a year. We all here, hope, will live long enough to see this marelous republic numbering 100,000,000 inhabitents. That will give us a colored population of or 5 per cent. Are you afraid of that proportion? And are you ready to proclaim to the yorld that America is no longer the home of the

I do not ask for any special legislation; or che contrary, I do not believe in compelling by aw anybody to receive in his house, in his home, any man or woman that he does not like home, any man or woman that he does not like to receive there. I am perfectly willing to let the barriers erected by custom, by prejudice, stand as they are, and trust that they finally will fall, rotten, to the ground, when they will not represent any more the public opinion. But I am opposed to legislate in favor of prejudices—to make them eternal by legislation.

No civil right bill for me, but no bill either to deprive any class of our citizens of their natural rights; no bill to prevent any human being to love or to marry as he or she pleases; no bill to prevent a white man to mix, if he so chooses, with the colored race, and vice versa. That is their own business. It does not concern anybody else. Liberty will regulate itself, if let alone.
